

LAS VEGAS' 25 MOST BEAUTIFUL NOMINEES

The qualifications for being nominated for Las Vegas 25 Most Beautiful is not just about one's outward appearance, it is about the character of the person that makes them beautiful in the things they do every day!

Whether the nominee spend their spare time helping the homeless, or supporting their favorite charity, it is about the remarkable things they do when noone is looking.

For those moments in time, we want to celebrate and salute those who make Las Vegas a better place to live!

Carolyn Goodman

Carolyn Goldmark Goodman is an American politician. She has been the mayor of Las Vegas, Nevada since 2011. Lisa Herr has always wanted to be in the arts. Whether it was performing arts or visual arts. She was fortunate enough to attend the University of the Arts in Philadelphia where she could major in Illustration and minor in Dance. Lisa's artistic career has included both throughout her life. She has worked as an artist for many great companies and as a performer for many great shows.

"My love for animals, especially horses inspires my work. I want each piece to reflect my passion and reverence for these animals, and also to inspire people to take a responsible role in our co-existence with them. In my eyes, animals are already beautiful works of art. I simply strive to bring forth their energy and spirit in my work." Lisa Herr is active in the Las Vegas Art scene and has contributed her efforts to non profit causes in the City.

Debbie Carroll never planned on becoming a fashion designer. However, she has always loved fashion and getting glammed up. Unable to find clothes to suit her style and petite frame, she decided to create her own. From that point on Debbie got the bug and started creating new pieces and experimenting with fabric and styles that best suited her and reflected her character and what she portrayed. Before she knew it she had her first Debbie Carroll Design collection.

Debbie has had the privilege of working with many fabulous ladies including, Miss USA 2014, Miss USA 2015, Miss United States 2015, Miss Jr United States 2027/17, Miss Ireland, and many more. Debbie supports the Miss Nevada beauty pageant and other charity beauty events
